

The Department of Molecular, Cellular, and Developmental Biology Special Event:

Mentorship Workshop

Mentors and mentees both want productive, supportive mentorship relationships. In this workshop, we will engage in facilitated discussions to identify strategies for achieving this common goal in the pursuit of excellent, collaborative research.

MCDB scientists at all levels are invited to join in this opportunity to reflect on their mentorship expectations, strategize for effective communication, and discuss approaches to build a thriving mentorship network.

Friday, October 18, 2019
3:30-5:00 pm
Yale Science Building 352
260 Whitney Avenue, New Haven

RSVP:

Join us afterwards for a special Happy Hour

Open to all MCDB-affiliated faculty, postdocs, graduate students, and postbacs, as well as first-year BBS students.

Sponsored by the Diversity and Professional Climate Committee

For more information, contact: renee.wasko@yale.edu

