

The Department of Molecular, Cellular and Developmental Biology Seminar Series Presents

Anjon Audhya
Associate Professor of Biomolecular Chemistry
University of Wisconsin-Madison

“Escrt Dynamics in Membrane Remodeling”

Jon Audhya joined the Biomolecular Chemistry faculty at UW-Madison following completion of his PhD with Scott Emr (UCSD) and postdoctoral work with Dr. Karen Oegema (Ludwig Institute). His laboratory is committed to understanding the fundamental mechanisms by which membrane proteins, lipids, and other macromolecules are transported throughout eukaryotic cells, with a particular focus on the roles of the ESCRT machinery in endolysosomal trafficking.
